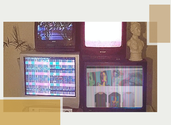
UX/UI Designer



Veronika Jovanovska

About me

Hello, my name is Veronika Jovanovska.
I am currently a student at a Faculty of Computer Science and Engineering (FINKI). My area of expertise is UX/UI design.
My style of design is very flexible, I can make a clean, elegant and simple web site but also a colorful and creative one.

Adobe XD
Illustrator
Photoshop
HTML
CSS
SASS

Contact me: +389 78 902 203
E-mail: jovanovska22veronika@gmail.com

MY PROJECTS

Name of the project: Wheel friendly

About the project:

This app is created to make disabled people life easier. To show you all the places you can easily go to from a cup of tea to the most beautiful museums.

To help you find your dream job. Showing you all the careers that are wheel friendly and managers that will happily hire you!

This is a place of support where you can meet and talk to people with disabilities all around the world.
Keep it positive!

What this app offers

It helps people to know ahead if the place they are planning to go to has access to wheel chairs. Also, gives you an idea if you dont know where you would like to go, shows you all the places that are wheel friendly!

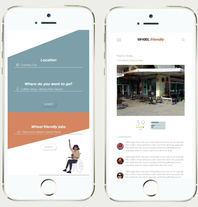
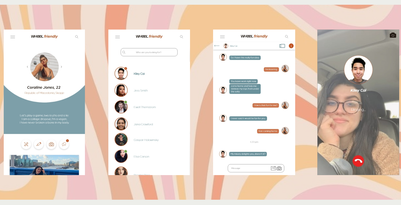
Speaking of wheel friendly, this app also can show you all the jobs and opportunities you can have



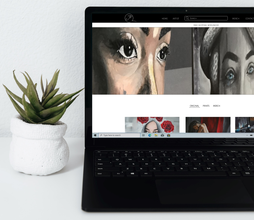


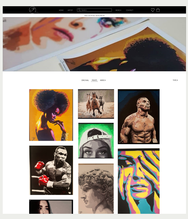
It also has the option to make a profile where people can post pictures, text and video chat with friends.

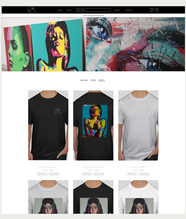
Name of the project: JD ART

About the project:

JD Art is a gallery, a simple, clean web site that is very easy to use. Here you can find beautiful original paintings as well as posters and t-shirts of the same paintings.





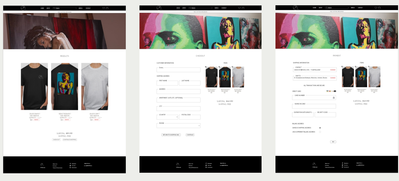


You will be anything but confused while exploring this web site. There are pop-ups all around so that the costumer's experience is enjoyable!

There is a place where you can contact the artist if you have any kind of problems or questions.

Find a wish list with all of your favorite paintings or t-shirts that you would like to purchase in the future.

The process of checking out



The process of checking out is easy and self-explanatory. When you're done filling the needed information and click the buy button you will be greeted with a message.

Veronika Jovanovska
Contact me: +389 78 902 203
E-mail: jovanovska22veronika@gmail.com

Thank you for your time!